After granting the certificate Justice Eawell issued an order with which the counsel for the convicted man can obtain his release from Sing Sing prison and have him transferred to the city prison in this city.

Justice Sewell also fixed the ball upon which Parks may receive his freedom under the certificate in the sum of $10,000.

Lawyers Eustace and Robinson argued before House Saturday in behalf of their client, larging with particular vehemence that Parks did not get a fair trial before Recorder Goff in the Court of General Sessions. They also showed to the satisfaction of the Brooklyn Court that the juryors who convicted the labor leader were prejudiced against labor unions and walking delegates.

Parks's lawyers announced after the argument that they were confident their

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, Aug. 31.—The Monday programme was quite interesting in its original form, and had the track been dry some good racing would have been the rule. Many entries were made in the hope that Sunday would be clear and the track in fairly good condition. The track was in such bad shape to-day, however, that the blue pencil was used freely, and all but the dyed-in-the-wool mudlarks were sent back to their stalls. The stakes down for decision this afternoon were the Autumn Maiden and the Flying Stakes, both of which had good fields. The attendance was limited and the great army of bookmakers in the ring found that time hung heavily DIRECT FOR BEIRUT. on their hands. There was little busi-

McGinnity Takes the Quakers Into Camp in Easy Fashion in the Opening Struggle of the Double-Header.

BATTING ORDER.

(Special to The Evening World.)
POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Aug.
.—McGinnity's superb pitching was the feature of the first game in the doubleneader here this afternoon between th Glants and the Phillies. Although sufering with an injured left arm, caused mintentionally by Pittinger, of Boston, the "Iron Man" swung out with his usual force and held Chief Zimmer's crowd down to five hits. Two of these were doubles, and would have been caught on the fly only for wet grounds. It looked like a shutout up to the minth inning, when Titus doubled to centre and scored on a fly to left from Hulswitt that Mertes caught and Vitants had plenty of ginger in spite of depressing weather and started scoring in the first inning. In the second they bunched four hits and scored three runs more, making four in all. The call of the second game found larger crowd present, all interested in warming up of Ames, the new pitcher. As the big boy walked to the sench the crowd broke out in a chorus of "Arnes!" "Ames!" but it was not to be Ames this time, as McGinnity felt good enough to work again and so took the slab. Duggleby went in for the First Inning.

McGinnity began by giving Thomas a pass. Gleason then filed to Browne, but Wolverton pasted a hard one past Babb, sending Thomas to third. Titus then struck out and when Barry had two strikes Wolverton tried to steal, being eleverly retired, Warner, McGin-Browne took the count on a fly to short. Bres was safe on Hulswitt's fumble, but died immediately on the steal. McGann fouled to Dooin, who took Zimmer's place at backstop. No

Second Inning.

Barry opened with a safe one to centre. McGinnity handled Douglass's sacrifice neatly, and then by a quick throw, caught Barry sleep-walking. Huiswitt struck out. No runs.

Mertes's foul hoist fell to Douglass. Babb grounded to Douglass. Lauder lined in Gleason's hands. No runs. Third Inning.

Duggleby landed safely to right and was safe at second on Thomas's bunt. Gleason forced Thomas, Dunn to Babb. Duggleby taking third. Wolverton rapped to Babb, who by a quick throw nailed Duggleby at the plate. Titus then drove to centre, clearing the bases andtaking second on the throw. Barry fanned. Two runs.

Dunn started with a walk. Warner field to Titus. McGinnity bunted out. Dunn was nabbed steafing third. No

Fourth Inning. Dunn made a quick stop from Doug-ass. He fumbled a moment too long in Hulswitt. McGann caught Doolh's oul hoist. Duggleby fanned. No runs. Browne could not best this tap to Glea-

HIGHLANDS OF NAVESINK, Aug. 31.

To-day's race resulted in another fluke. Reliance was unable to finish within the time limit. When the signals were hoisted declaring no contest Shamrock was three miles or more behind the Yankee yacht. The wind was light throughout, but there was a heavy sea and the allaround superiority of Reliance was absolutely demonstrated. Reliance was a mile and a half from the finish line when the time limit expired. A race will be sailed again to-morrow on the same terms, fifteen miles to windward and return. As it appeared a foregone conclusion that Reliance would win and as the weather was not calculated to draw people from comfort to the outside of Sandy Hook, the attendance of excursionists was small. Three or four big boats, a few yachts and a small fleet of tugs came down the Narrows to attend the racers around the course.

When time came for the start the wind was out of the northeast and it was decided that the required distance could not be sailed with a start from the lightship. Accordingly a shift was made. The tug Navigator steamed down the coast, followed by the bedraggled fleet, and established a starting line about four miles west of south of Sandy Hook Lightship.

The start was the usual exhibition of seamanship in which Capt. Barr excels, but he was unable to get any advantage over the skipper of the Irish boat to-day save in obtaining the weather. As the starting gun was fired both boats headed for the line and went over neck and neck, as it were, not a second in time separating them. The wind was light, but fairly steady. Reliance drew away from the start and before the race was half an hour old the conviction was settled among the observers that it would be another procession. There was doubt if the race could be sailed under the time limit.

COURSE HAD TO BE CHANGED.

When the committee boat reached the lightship it was found that to start a race from that point fifteen miles to leeward or windward would be impossible, and a signal was hoisted postponing the start until a line could be established sufficiently south of the lightship to send the yachts off to windward. As soon as the signal was hoisted the Navigator began to steam south from the lightship, while the two yachts and the small accompanying fleet followed in that direction.

The committee boat came to anchor about four miles south by west of the lightship. With the assistance of another tug the imaginary starting line was then formed and the course was signalled as east northeast. This brought the turn southeast of Long Beach, about six miles off shore.

When the preparatory signal was fired at 11.30 the wind was dropping off and had a strength of scarcely more than five or six miles an house

Both boats manoeuvred very slowly. Baby jib topsails were run up in stops preparatory for the fight for position just before the start. Most of the excursion fleet, and it was a very small one, kept to the northern side of the line. Both yachts crossed the line on the starboard tack, Reliance a trifle ahead, but Shamrock a little to windward of the defender's wake. The wind at the start was blowing about seven miles an hour and both yachts at once headed toward the Long Island shore. Each carried the same sails, with large clubtopsails and intermediate baby-jibtopsails. Immediately after crossing the line Shamrock went to port, Reliance following her example thirty seconds later. For five minutes they sailed on the port tack.

Reliance was pointing magnificently to windward, but smashing the Minister Leishman does not, as reported in some quarters, request the withdrawal of the American ships from Turkish waters. While reports by way of London state that no attempt was made upon the life of Vice-Consul Magelssen, official advices so far received show that such an attempt was made. The present status was known before the ships left Genoa, and this Government did not decide to change the orders.

It is now stated, however, that should paaceful conditions prevail at Belrut when the ships arrive there the matter of sending them to another port will be considered and possibly adopted.
